FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Transactions in Stocks Double in Volume-Only Slight Variations.

PACIFIC MAIL UP-BURLINGTON DOWN.

A Question of Board Room Ethics-Liberal Additions to the Lists.

WALL STREET, WEDNESDAY, Feb. 25-6 P. M. A little more animation in stocks to-day.

Transactions doubled those of yesterday in volume and there were several interesting features. Pacific Mail advanced 1% on the belief that the Shipping bill will pass, while Burlington and Quincy is down 1%, mainly on selling by Chicago speculators. Wassermann Brothers bought 1,000 Pacific Mail and W. G. McKinley 1,000 shares up to the highest. Burlington stands for more than a sixth of the day's total business, and, together with Burlington, Atchison and St. Paul, represents very nearly onehalf of it.

The other grangers were only slightly affected by the drop in Burlington. The not decline in Northwest is % and in Rock Island %, while St. Paul, which was second to Burlington in activity, is 1/2 higher. Jersey Central is down 2/2 Big Four 1/4 and Atchison %, but changes in the general list are only fractional.

Most of the industrial issues were heavy, Sugar Refineries common selling off sharply, while Lead and Cotton Oil common and preferred sagging a fraction. National Cordage preferred, however, sold at 106% and 104% was bid at the close. When the next quarterly dividend is paid on May 1 on the Cordage preferred stock the first semi-annual dividend will be due on the common shares. It is stated that four per cent will be paid for the half year, and 3% was bid to-day for the dividend on any part of 1,000 shares.

Sales at the Board amounted to 114,362 shares fellyar bullion certificates not included), against 51,563 shares yesterday and 33,952 shares on Saturday. Following is a summary of to-day's market:-

There is much complaint in "the street" as to the slowness with which transfers are made by the National Lead Trust. Commission houses say they transfer of certificates. The Delaware and Hudson has declared the regu-

"Not guilty, but don't do it again," is the judg-ment rendered by the governors of the Stock Ex-change this evening in the case of Mr. H. A. Groesbeck, of the firm of Douglass, Jones & Co. It will be remembered that Mr. Grossbeck about a fortnight ago sold a modest amount of Rock Island on the floor, and being curious to know for whom the buying broker was acting, he directed a boy to follow the aforesaid broker's messenger and fing out to whom he would deliver the memorandum of the transaction. This little detective trick of Mr. Grossbeck becoming known to the Committee of Arrangements, it laid the facts before the governors. The latter at their meeting this evening decided that Mr. Groesbeck's action was detrimental to the standing and good name of the Exchange. However, as such a case had never before been brought to their attention, and as Mr. Gross back explained that he was merely thoughtless, the governors inflicted no penalty. As a matter of fact, that sort of thing is done by members of the Exchange every day. One of the governors, while privately discussing the case this afternoon, said the moral tone of the Stock Exchange has fallen so low that conduct which in old times would have made a broker liable to expulsion is now overlooked or accepted as a matter of course.

The Governing Committee of the New York Stock Exchange at its meeting this afternoon added to the lists for dealings $39,998,000 of securities as follows:-Cleveland, Alcon and Columbus Railroay-$600,000

A STAMPEDE IN WHEAT-CORN SLIGHTLY HIGHER-PROVISIONS STRONGER.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD. [market was a surprise to those who allowed themselves to be impressed with the strong tone of the bulk of to-day's despatches. There was everything in favor of higher prices except outside business, and when the local speculators, who had bought early relying upon some support from that source, realized that it was not forthcoming, hastened to rid thomit was not forthcoming, hastened to rid thom-selves of their early purchases, and then easind a stampede of the holders, resulting in a break in May wheat from 974c, to 904c. It closed at 904c, after open-ing at 994c. Corn was strong during the entire session, but did not maintain much of the day's advance, closing at 554c, for May after seiling as high as 36c. Provi-sions recovered a little of their previous loss. The chief factor in the wheat market when trading commenced was the fulfilment of the cold weather pre-dictions. The cables received from the private corre-spondents of the commission houses here were generally arronger in tone than the public despatch from Liver-pool, but local speculators as a rule incline to be guided by the Beard of Trade's correspondent, who, they think, can be relied upon.

Such thinking was enough to make the speculative "currents ture away"—to again adopt a figure of the melancholy Dane. I hear that notices for 9,000 bales on March contracts were be stopped by the North Carolina contingent to-day, the same houses pursuing the policy followed for two or at three months past—namely, to stop notices and sell the distant months at the current promiums. The promiums now pay a little over diper cent per annum on the money invested, so that some A who are bearish on the general situation do not object to receiving cotton and putting it out again of for this smelument. New York is relatively the chappest markes in the country and might be doing a much better expert trade but for the fact that the Southern markets are favored with very low rates of freight to Liverpool. In fact cotton can be laid down in Liverpool almost as cheaply as in New Hork. There was some talk on the carry in the day it had some weight with a few operators. The prices of inferior lambs' wool were in buyers' favor.
